IBM Sterling B2B Integrator Architectural Overview

Information

Length:	1.0 Day
Ref:	6T605G
Delivery method:	ClassroomInstructor Led Online
Price:	EUR

Overview

Note: This course has no labs associated with it. However, training materials are available.

This 1-day webcast provides you with an overview of the Sterling B2B Integrator, the Sterling B2B Integrator architecture and the business process concepts in Sterling B2B Integrator. The course also provides information on clustering and the different architectural configurations. It will enable you to understand the basic components of a business process and the role of a business process in your business. The course also discusses mapping the paths in the business solution and architecting a solution.

Public

This basic course is designed to introduce the IBM® Sterling B2B Integrator and its methodologies to enable developers to begin architecting solutions.

Prerequisits

You should have:

- Sterling B2B Integrator Fundamentals

Objective

- Understand business process architecture
- Recognize the different system configurations for Sterling B2B Integrator
- Discuss the different flow options available to a business process

Topics

- What is Sterling B2B Integrator?
- System Architecture Overview
- Business Processes

- Business Process Flow